Hello Parents! Hard to believe we're already eight weeks into the semester. For better or worse, we're settling into one of the most important times for students (in my opinion). The weather keeps getting colder and it won't be too long before we start seeing the snow stick. There are still some awesome things happening [...]

VP Les Cook Honored as a Pillar of his Profession

November 5, 2015

Les Cook, vice president for student affairs and advancement at Michigan Technological University, has been named one of the NASPA Foundation's 2016 Pillars of the Profession.

NASPA is the leading professional organization for student affairs administrators in higher education. Each year, the NASPA Foundation recognizes individuals who have earned professional distinction in higher education, served in leadership roles in NASPA and have made significant lifetime contributions to higher education.. This year, 14 student affairs leaders were named Pillars of the Profession, including Cook.

"I am honored and very humbled to receive this recognition," Cook said. "I have been incredibly fortunate . . .

Connecting Students and Alumni

What are your plans for after graduation? Are you thinking about which career paths might work for you? Does graduate school sound appealing? Transitioning from college to professional life can be challenging. That's where the Student Mentoring Network can help. Researching options and building a professional network are essential to your success, whether you enter the world of work or

The database of mentors is a unique offering, exclusive to JCU students, which provides direct access to alumni profiles and is intended to foster meaningful connections that will inspire, encourage and provide ongoing support to you throughout your journey.

Alumni have a keen understanding of the JCU experience and look forward to helping you achieve success. Participants include a range of ages, experience and career paths. By interacting with alumni, you will gain insight and understanding of their experience and field of interest from an insider's perspective. This may lead you to pursue new opportunities or confirm your current interests.

June 14th, 2015

Ava today built her first WordPress website and blogged a hello message to mom and dad. She added some images and wrote a short pargraph about her love for minecraft, ice cream, and iPads.

We encouarge you parents and guardians to share this safely with local and trusted family members so they can read and encourage Ava to continue writing and blogging after the end of the summer camp.
